

Figure 6.15: Feedback linearization. A nonlinear feedback of the form $u = \alpha(x, v)$ is used to modify the dynamics of a nonlinear process so that the response from the input v to the output y is linear. A linear controller can then be used to regulate the system's dynamics.